

I urge the FCC to expand and protect the services provided by Low Power FM Radio stations. They actually need better antenna placement and higher power if anything. We enjoy many hours of local events and opinions of national events not available on commercial radio.

I know several college media students producing valuable local shows also.

Thank You,
Mark Cenac